COPY TRADING TERMS & CONDITIONS

GLOSSARY OF TERMS

Unless otherwise specified, the following terms carry the meanings given in these Terms. Any term not defined here shall have the same meaning as in the Client Agreement.

1. Commission: This refers to the percentage of profit derived from the difference between the Investor's starting and ending equity. The rate is set by the Trader and must be paid in USD either at the end of each Settlement Period or sooner if required.
2. Copy Mode: This is a setting in the Copytrading Service that determines the proportion of trades copied to the Investor's account. It influences the Minimum Investment and the size of copied orders, depending on the selected multiplier. Available options are Equal x1, Double x2, Triple x3, or a Custom value between 0.01 and 9999.
3. Copytrading Service: This service, offered via the Company's Website, enables Clients to act as Investors, copying Traders' Strategies, or as Traders, creating Strategies to attract Investors.
4. Investment: This represents the allocation of funds from the Investor's Wallet into a chosen Strategy in order to replicate the Trader's trades.
5. Investor: A Client who participates in the Copytrading Service by following Traders' Strategies and paying the applicable Commission.
6. Investor Wallet: A type of Trading Account used by the Investor to allocate funds and follow one or more Strategies.
7. Minimum Investment: The minimum amount required to participate in a Strategy, calculated automatically based on the Maximum Trader margin over the previous seven days. Also referred to as Required Investment.
8. Settlement: The process by which the Investor transfers the Commission to the Trader according to the agreed rate at the end of each Settlement Period.
9. Settlement Period: The timeframe beginning either from the creation of a Strategy or each Monday at 00:00:00 and ending on Friday at 23:59:59. Commissions must be paid within two days after the end of this period.
10. Strategy: A distinct method of executing trades, created and publicly displayed by the Trader. Investors may allocate funds to copy the Strategy, thereby replicating all orders and transactions performed by the Trader.
11. Support Funds: Additional funds provided by the Investor to safeguard their Investment against unexpected market fluctuations or forced closure due to insufficient balance.

12. Trader: A Client who develops Strategies for Investors to follow and earns Commission from the Investors' allocations.
13. Trader Wallet: A specialized Trading Account used by Traders to collect Commission from Investors during the Settlement process.

1. INTRODUCTION

These Copytrading Terms & Conditions (the "Terms") govern the use of the Company's Copytrading Service by its Clients. By registering for the Service, the Client accepts these Terms, which remain in effect as long as the Client maintains at least one active Investor Wallet or Trader Wallet.

The Terms, together with any attachments, define:

- The rules and conditions for using the Copytrading Service as an Investor, Trader, or both;
- Trading and non-trading operations within the Service;
- How the Copytrading Service interacts with other Company services, promotions, and offerings.

The Client confirms that they have read, understood, and agreed to comply with these Terms prior to using the Service.

The Company reserves the right to:

- Modify, update, or supplement these Terms and any attachments at any time, with changes published on the Company's Website;
- Partially or fully suspend or terminate the Copytrading Service, or any related services, at its discretion, with or without notice.

These Terms form an integral part of the Client Agreement. Any matters not explicitly addressed herein shall be governed by the Client Agreement and its attachments.

2. SERVICES

2.1. The Copytrading Service enables Investors to replicate trades executed by Traders. The Service can be activated by selecting the "Start Copying" option in the Personal Area.

2.2. Traders perform their trading operations using personal Trading Accounts that are eligible for participation in the Copytrading Service. All transactions and trading activities conducted on a Trader's Trading Account must comply with the terms of the Client Agreement.
2.3. Trades executed as part of a Strategy are automatically duplicated to the Investor's account. Copying a trade means that the same trade—using the same trading instrument, trade type (Buy or Sell), and in accordance with the settings and parameters of the selected Strategy and the specific Investment—is opened or closed simultaneously on the Investor's account.
2.4. The Copytrading Service is available exclusively for Trading Accounts on the MetaTrader 4 platform.

3. INVESTOR AND INVESTOR WALLET

3.1. A Client may participate in the Copytrading Service as an Investor by opening an Investor Wallet in their Personal Area.
3.2. Once the Investor Wallet is opened, the Investor may deposit funds using any available deposit method. The minimum deposit amount is $25.
3.3. The Investor may begin copying a Strategy by allocating an amount to the Investment, which cannot be less than the Minimum Investment. At the start of copying a Strategy, the Investor may also provide additional funds as a one-time Support Amount. No further Support Amounts can be added later.
3.4. By using the Copytrading Service, the Investor authorizes and instructs:

- the Trader to act on their behalf according to the chosen Strategy;
- the Company to take all necessary actions to follow the Trader's Strategy; and
- the Company to perform the Settlement of Commissions.

3.5. The Investor determines the exact amount of funds from their Investor Wallet to allocate to an Investment. This amount must meet or exceed the Minimum Investment and cannot exceed the total equity in the Investor Wallet.
3.6. Trades are copied from the Trader's account only after the Investor has subscribed to the Trader within the Copytrading Service. Once copying is activated, trades are replicated to the Investor Account regardless of whether the Investor is signed in.

3.7. The Investor's orders are executed following the Trader's orders (Buy or Sell). Each copied order is executed at the market price when the Trader places a trade, and the same mechanism applies to closing trades. Execution prices may vary, and the number of Investors following the same Trader may affect execution time.

3.8. Investors may copy multiple Strategies from multiple Traders simultaneously. They may also modify copying parameters at any time, both before starting and during ongoing copying.

3.9. Investors can select the Copy Mode, choosing one of the three preset multipliers or a Custom value between 0.01 and 9999. The Copy Mode determines the ratio at which the Strategy's trading volumes are replicated. Examples:

- If Double (×2) is selected and a Trader opens 1 lot, the Investor's copied trade will be 2 lots.
- If Custom (×0.5) is selected and a Trader opens 1 lot, the Investor's copied trade will be 0.5 lot.
- A Copy Mode of 1 replicates trades in the same volume as the Trader. Changes to Copy Mode affect only trades opened after the adjustment.

3.10. Trade volumes are rounded to the nearest hundredth decimal point. For example, 0.324 lots rounds down to 0.32 lots, while 0.325 rounds up to 0.33 lots.

3.11. The Investor is responsible for maintaining sufficient funds in their account to execute copied trades according to the chosen Copy Mode. Additional funds may be added to an Investment at any time.

3.12. The Investor may stop following a Strategy at any time during market hours by clicking "Stop Copying." Relevant orders will be closed at the market price, reducing the Investment. Investment cannot be reduced below the Minimum Investment unless the Investor stops copying entirely.

3.13. Investors can view trading history, summaries, and performance for all copied trades in the Personal Area. Limit Orders such as Stop Loss or Take Profit set by Traders are not visible before execution but are reflected when triggered.

3.14. Investor account leverage is fixed at 1:500 and cannot be changed. Investors do not have direct access to the trading terminal and cannot independently close or modify copied trades.

3.15. Stop Loss and Take Profit orders are not displayed in the Investor Area, but when triggered on the Trader Account, the corresponding trades in the Investor Account are closed automatically.

3.16. Investors acknowledge that Traders may incur both profits and losses, and the Copytrading Service does not influence trading outcomes. Investors' trading statistics are accessible only in the Investor Area.

3.17. By following a specific Trader's Strategy, the Investor accepts all applicable settings, parameters, and Commission rates defined by that Trader.

4. TRADER AND TRADER WALLET

4.1. A Client may participate in the Copytrading Service as a Trader by opening a new Trading Account for a Strategy or selecting an existing Trading Account that meets the requirements for the Service. Each Strategy must be assigned a unique name.

4.2. Only Pro and Standard types of Trading Accounts are eligible for the Copytrading Service. All requirements, including minimum deposit amounts, are the same as for accounts of the same type outside the Service.

4.3. Trading Accounts must be on the MetaTrader 4 platform to be used for the Copytrading Service.

4.4. A Trader may use up to five Trading Accounts for different Strategies.

4.5. Each Strategy must include a publicly displayed description of at least 50 and no more than 500 symbols. Strategy descriptions are not considered personal or confidential information.

4.6. The Trader sets the Commission rate for each Strategy, ranging from 0% to 50% in 1% increments. Changes to the Commission apply only to new Investors subscribing after the change. Commission is calculated at the end of each Settlement Period and paid to the Trader Wallet, from which it can be transferred internally to other Trading Accounts.

4.7. Changes to a Trader's account equity (deposits or withdrawals) do not affect the volume of trades already copied to Investors' accounts.

4.8. Traders may use any trading strategy that complies with the Client Agreement. All trades must be executed using the Trader's own funds.

4.9. Traders shall not provide investment services or advice to Investors.

4.10. Traders must act honestly and may not include misleading, defamatory, or otherwise inappropriate information in Strategy names, descriptions, or other media. The Company determines the appropriateness of information and may require modifications to the Strategy name or description.
4.11. Traders cannot follow their own Strategies as an Investor.
4.12. A Trader may unsubscribe a Trading Account from a Strategy at any time, ceasing participation in the Copytrading Service for that account. All open orders on that account will be closed at current market rates at the time of unsubscription.
4.13. Traders' trading statistics are publicly available.
4.14. Certain information from a Trader's account will be visible to Investors as part of the Copytrading Service. This includes the Trader's country of residence, trading results (profit or loss), balance operations (deposits, withdrawals), and details of open and closed orders associated with each Strategy.

5. TRIAL PERIOD

5.1. Traders may offer a Trial Period for their Strategies, during which Investors can subscribe without paying any Commission. The duration of the Trial Period is set by the Trader and cannot exceed 7 calendar days.
5.2. Traders can activate or deactivate the Trial Period at any time. However, if the Trial Period is deactivated, it will continue to apply for Investors who already subscribed while it was active.
5.3. The Trial Period is automatically applied when an Investor initiates copying a Strategy for the first time, provided the Trader has enabled it and the Investor has not previously used a Trial Period with that Trader. Investors who stop copying during the Trial Period and later re-subscribe to the same Trader's Strategy will not be eligible for the Trial Period again.
5.4. If the Trader enables a Trial Period while having existing active Investors, the Trial Period will not apply to those Investors.
5.5. Once the Trial Period expires, the standard copying conditions set by the Trader—including the applicable Commission—will apply.
5.6. Investors can identify Traders offering a Trial Period on the Leaderboard by activating the "Trial available" filter.

6. TRADING OPERATIONS, COMMISSIONS, AND PAYMENT PROCEDURES

6.1. Trading conditions, including leverage, swaps, and spreads, are the same for Pro and Standard types of Trading Accounts. Accordingly, the trading conditions for Investors copying a Strategy match those of the Trader based on the type of Trading Account used for that Strategy.
6.2. The minimum volume for a copied trade is 0.01 lot, while the maximum volume is unlimited. If the calculated trade volume based on the chosen Copy Mode is below 0.01 lot, the trade will still be opened at 0.01 lot on the Investor's account.
6.3. Changes to the Trader's account equity (deposits or withdrawals) or leverage do not affect the volume of trades already copied to the Investor Wallet.
6.4. Traders earn Commission as a percentage of the difference between the initial and final equity generated by an Investor following their Strategy. Commission is calculated according to the rate set for each Strategy and credited to the Trader Wallet at the end of each Settlement Period.
6.5. If no trading profit is generated by the end of a Settlement Period, the Trader receives no Commission for that period.
6.6. If an Investor reduces their Investment or stops copying a Strategy, Settlement is performed immediately, calculating the applicable profits and paying the Commission to the Trader Wallet at that time.

7. RISKS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

7.1. The Company does not guarantee the performance of any Strategy. Participation in the Copytrading Service is entirely at the Investor's and Trader's own risk.
7.2. Both Investors and Traders acknowledge and accept that trading involves significant risks, including the possibility of losses resulting from the Trader's activity according to the chosen Strategy. The Company does not provide investment advice, personalized recommendations, or guidance on the merits of any investment. Traders act independently, on their own account, and at their own risk.
7.3. Investors specifically acknowledge and accept risks including, but not limited to:

- Differences in execution prices between the Investor's account and the Trader's account due to market conditions. The Company does not compensate for any resulting differences in profit, loss, or Commission;
- Variations in the Trader's experience and qualifications;
- Potential losses caused by the Trader partially closing positions, which may trigger closing and reopening of corresponding positions on the Investor's account;
- Differences in total margin requirements between the Trader's and Investor's accounts;
- Potential losses or reduced profit resulting from rounding of trade volumes when copying transactions.

7.4. Traders acknowledge that they may not receive the full Commission if an Investor's account lacks sufficient funds. The Company is not responsible for compensating unpaid Commission. Any unpaid Commission will be collected in future Settlement Periods when the Investor has sufficient equity.

7.5. Both Investors and Traders accept all risks described in the Client Agreement, including risks arising from market volatility and any restrictions the Company may impose during periods of high volatility.

7.6. The Company bears no liability to Investors or Traders for any losses, lost profits, or other damages that may directly or indirectly result from trading operations, whether executed or not, by the Trader or Investor.

8. MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

8.1. Acceptance of these Terms by the Investor does not create any contractual relationship between the Investor and the Trader, and no separate agreement is concluded between them.

8.2. The Company reserves the right to restrict or suspend access to the Copytrading Service, including Investor Wallets or Strategies, in case of violations of these Terms, the Client Agreement, or other applicable rules and regulations.

If an Investor Wallet is suspended, all Commission for profits generated up to the moment of suspension shall be paid to Traders.

If a Strategy is suspended, all open orders of the Trader and Investors copying the Strategy will be closed at current market rates, and Commission will be calculated and paid up to the moment of suspension.

8.3. In cases of suspension or an Event of Default under the Client Agreement, the Company may, at its sole discretion, cancel all profits from the Copytrading Service and any associated Commission, and suspend the Investor Wallet or Strategy.

8.4. The Company may reject or block the visibility of any proposed or existing Strategy for reasons including, but not limited to:

Strategy descriptions that are inconsistent with these Terms, contain illegal, unethical, or irrelevant information, or are misleading;

Strategy names that are misleading, offensive, contain racist, religious, or illegal references, or violate moral or ethical standards;

Trader's account associated with the Strategy does not meet minimum funding requirements for the Trading Account type;

Trader's Personal Area is not fully verified according to the Client Agreement;

Inactivity of the Strategy for more than seven (7) calendar days;

Any other reason deemed relevant and appropriate by the Company at its sole discretion.

8.5. All trading performance statistics, profits, and Commission within the Copytrading Service are provided in USD, regardless of the actual currency of the Trading Account or Investor Wallet. Calculations are made based on prevailing market rates.

8.6. Trading volumes of both Investors and Traders are counted for the Partner Program. Maximum Partner remuneration is determined according to the Introducing Broker Agreement.

8.7. A Trader may also act as an Introducing Broker for Investors. In such cases, the Trader will receive both Introducing Broker remuneration and Commission for copied trades, with remuneration calculated according to the Introducing Broker Agreement.

8.8. Investor Wallets are not eligible for Deposit Bonuses or other bonus programs.

8.9. Clients who are not satisfied with any aspect of the Copytrading Service may file a complaint in accordance with the Client Agreement.
